

DORMITORY RULES AND REGULATIONS

JAKARTA INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

Article 1

Introduction

1. The Jakarta International University (JIU) dormitory is called Thomas House. This dormitory serves as a facility for fostering and empowering JIU students in accordance with the core values of Love, Integrity, Faithfulness, and Excellence (L.I.F.E.).
2. Students residing in the Thomas House dormitory are students who have registered as dormitory residents, signed a dormitory resident agreement, and agree to comply with the established Dormitory Rules and Regulations. Residents are also active JIU students who have completed their administrative obligations (paid dormitory fees) and received a room number assigned by the Dormitory Supervisor.

Article 2

Function

1. The Thomas House dormitory is an integral part of the academic community, having independent authority and function in contributing to student development.
2. The Thomas House dormitory serves as a temporary residence for JIU students to develop their competencies, character, and morals through living together, socializing, fostering camaraderie, and practicing JIU's core values of Love, Integrity, Faithfulness, and Excellence (L.I.F.E.).

Article 3

Objectives

1. To provide a conducive living environment for learning and support students in completing their studies on time.
2. To foster the development of student competence, character, discipline, independence, and responsibility in accordance with JIU's core values.
3. To develop students' personalities to be professional, appreciative, and environmentally sensitive.
4. To encourage student creativity in accordance with their individual interests and talents.
5. To foster democratic attitudes and high-quality student leadership.
6. To develop the character and morals of students with character, commendable values, and religious values through socialization and a sense of family within the dormitory environment.

Article 4

Rights and Obligations

1. Dormitory Resident Rights:

- o Use dormitory facilities as needed.
- o Receive security and supervision in the dormitory environment.
- o Receive information about facility management and development activities.
- o Develop one's own spirituality independently.
- o Speak and participate in organizations according to one's interests, guided by JIU values.

2. Dormitory Resident Obligations:

- o Pay dormitory fees on time.
- o Maintain and care for dormitory facilities. Damage due to negligence must be repaired or replaced.
- o Use electricity and water efficiently.
- o Participate in dormitory activities according to the specified schedule.
- o Maintain the cleanliness and tidiness of the dormitory environment.
- o Adhere to the designated dormitory activity times.
- o Maintain the good name of the institution, dormitory, and JIU campus.
- o Secure and store personal valuables.
- o Comply with all dormitory rules and regulations.

Article 5

Admission and Dismissal of Dormitory Residents

1. Freshmen students are required to live in the dormitory for one year after being accepted as JIU students.
2. Sophomore, junior, and senior students are not required to live in the dormitory but may reapply each semester, subject to bed availability.
3. Exceptions to dormitory accommodation include marriage (pregnancy), internships, or specific medical conditions with a doctor's note. Dormitory accommodation may be terminated if a student is expelled from JIU, has seriously violated dormitory regulations, or has completed their studies.

Article 6

General Rules, Timings, and Leaving the Dormitory

1. General Rules:

- o Dormitory residents are required to leave the dormitory at the end of the semester according to the academic calendar, after completing administrative and dormitory fees.
- o Uphold the principle of family and JIU core values.
- o Honest, disciplined, and refrain from taking advantage of the rights of others.
- o Polite and refrain from using offensive language.
- o Not disturbing or making noises.
- o Male residents are prohibited from entering areas on floors occupied by female residents, and female residents are prohibited from entering areas on floors occupied by male residents.
- o Dormitory residents are not permitted to move to another room without the approval of the dormitory supervisor. Move to another room without permission will be subject to sanctions.

- Moving or damaging dormitory facilities is prohibited.
- It is forbidden to keep or use prohibited items, including drugs, narcotics and alcohol.
- Gambling, fighting, intimidation, bullying, or indecent acts are prohibited.
- Smoking or keeping pets on the dormitory area are not allowed.
- Maintain room cleanliness and use the assigned bed number.
- Do not bring heavy food except drinking water into the room.
- Freshmen are not permitted to have romantic relationships (dating) with fellow dorm residents so that they can focus on being educated according to the core values L.I.F.E.
- Attend counseling if you are dating (at least twice each semester) with the Counseling team.

2. Dormitory Time Rules:

- Morning Check-Out Time: Residents are required to leave the dormitory by 9:00 a.m. during academic hours, regardless of whether or not classes are in session.
- Dormitory Return Time: Residents are allowed to return to the dormitory after lunch to rest, study or do assignments.
- Evening Return Time: Residents must return to the dormitory the latest at 7:00 p.m. on Mondays to Thursdays; while on Fridays to Sundays latest at 8:00 p.m. (or with special permission from the dormitory supervisor).
- Quiet Hour: Valid from 10:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. All noisy activities such as bathing, cooking, and laundry must cease during this time.

3. Dormitory Leaving Rules:

- Students are allowed to leave the dormitory on weekends or holidays with permission from the dormitory supervisor if there is no mandatory dormitory activities.
- Before the end of the odd semester break, students are required to clean their rooms and organize their personal belongings to move into their new rooms in preparation for the even semester.
- Before the end-of-even semester break, students are required to clean and vacate their rooms for the new academic year.
- Students who leave the dormitory and stay overnight without notice for more than two 24-hour periods will be reported to their parents/guardians.
- Any incidents outside the dormitory (accidents, lost items) are the sole responsibility of the student.

Article 7

Cooking and Kitchen Rules

1. A mini kitchen (pantry) is available for cooking simple meals, heating food, and boiling water. The dormitory provides cooking appliances such as a microwave, electric stove, electric kettle, rice cooker, toaster, and refrigerator.
2. Food waste must be disposed of in the trash, not down the drain.
3. Residents are required to maintain and repair kitchen facilities and equipment if damaged. If the damage cannot be repaired, they have to replace it.
4. Clean all the kitchen equipment after use.
5. Moving the provided kitchen equipment is not permitted.
6. Cooking activities in the kitchen must end no later than 10:00 PM, in accordance with quiet hours.

Article 8

Rules for Maintaining Cleanliness

1. Dispose of trash in the trash bins provided in each room.
2. Establish a cleaning schedule for each room and floor and be responsible for maintaining the cleanliness.
3. Store personal belongings in their respective closets or desks.

Article 9

Rules of Washing and Drying Clothes

1. Please follow the laundry schedule that has been made.
2. Use the washing machine and dryer properly. Any damage must be reported immediately.
3. Clean the washing machine after use (leave the lid open) and tidy up the laundry area.
4. Observe the maximum load for each wash cycle; do not wash too many clothes at once (consider the machine's capacity).
5. It is highly recommended to wash towels, sheets, and pillowcases at least once every two weeks.
6. Hang clothes to dry only in the designated area.
7. Remove clothes immediately after they are dry.

Article 10

Rules for Bringing Facilities Outside of Standard Dormitory Facilities

1. You are not allowed to bring cooking utensils from outside (any kind of cooking equipment).
2. You must be responsible for your personal belongings and report any damage to dormitory facilities.

Article 11

Fire Disaster Prevention Measures

1. Ensure electrical outlets are unplugged after use or when leaving the room unoccupied.
2. Do not damage or remove fire extinguishers.
3. Avoid fire-hazardous activities such as burning paper, etc.

Article 12

Merit and Demerit System

1. Merit System:

- Each dormitory resident receives 30 merit points at the beginning of the semester.
- Merit points can be earned by actively participating in dormitory activities, maintaining cleanliness, adhering to regulations, and demonstrating a positive attitude.
- Merit points can be used to obtain special awards in the dormitory.

2. Demerit System:

- Demerits are awarded for violations of dormitory regulations.
- Each violation will reduce the number of merit points.
- Residents with high demerit points risk facing more severe sanctions and losing their dormitory privileges.

Article 13

Sanction Determination

1. Minor Sanctions :

- Leaving the Campus area without permission from the dormitory supervisor.
- Violating dormitory rules and regulations.
- Sanctions: Performing tasks assigned by the dormitory supervisor (counted towards demerit points).

2. Severe Sanctions :

- Bullying, sexual harassment, or indecent acts.
- Possessing narcotics, alcohol, sharp weapons, or other prohibited objects.
- Other serious violations, such as significantly violating JIU core values.
- Smoking outside designated areas (in the White House).
- Sanctions: Residents who commit serious violations will go through the SP (Warning Letter) procedure and ultimately be expelled from the dormitory.
- Sanctions for Facility Damage (Intentional):
Residents who intentionally damage dormitory facilities are responsible for replacing or repairing the damaged facilities.

Note:

- These dormitory rules and regulations may be amended according to the needs and current dormitory activities.